A photograph of a modern glass-walled building with a wooden deck overlooking a harbor in Copenhagen. The text "COPENHAGEN JUNE, 2020" is overlaid in white. The scene is captured during the "blue hour" of dusk, with long shadows cast across the wooden planks of the deck. The glass facade of the building reflects the sky and the harbor. Inside the building, tables and chairs are visible, suggesting an outdoor dining area. In the background, the harbor is filled with water, and a few boats are visible. The city skyline, including a prominent church spire, is visible across the water under a clear blue sky with a few wispy clouds.
